

LEWIS' TRIAL IS RESUMED

Major Obstacles Still Being Faced By Treaty Makers

Council Of Foreign Ministers In Fifth Week Of Peace Treaty Work

FIVE TREATIES ARE BEING COMPLETED
By PIERRE J. HUSS
(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The Big Four council of foreign ministers launched its fifth week of peace treaty work today in a race with the United Nations organization to complete its task within two weeks.

Two major obstacles remain to be overcome, reparations and Greco-Bulgarian frontier and demilitarization problems, before the council can look forward to any departure date which would enable them to "get home" for Christmas.

A variety of other open questions remain to be settled in the projected treaties with Italy, Bulgaria, Hungary, Romania and Finland, aside from the necessity of finally nailing down decisions hitherto agreed on only "in principle."

A case in point is that of free navigation of the Danube, which if finally inserted in the Balkan treaties carries with it commitment of the Big Four powers to a riparian conference.

Molotov's Moods Vary
Soviet Foreign Secretary Molotov, alternately in a conciliatory or inflexible mood last week after the general accord on the Trieste statute, remains decisively at odds with Secretary of State Byrnes and British Foreign Secretary Bevin over the apportioning of reparations from Italy to Yugoslavia and Greece, although he has acknowledged the principle of equal payments.

The Russian is still demanding the scaling down of reparations assessments against Bulgaria.

PA NEW OBSERVES
City buses were being equipped with chains on the wheels last night and this morning for the first time this season, due to traffic conditions.

Fred Horchler, rural carrier on new route No. 8, which was placed in operation today, had real winter weather conditions to contend with on his first trip over the new route.

Some of the ponds around the county were quite well frozen over this morning, Pa. News is informed. A few days of continued cold weather would make skating possible.

One farmer near Mt. Jackson started taking advantage of the cold early this morning Pa. News noted. He was out at the crack of dawn preparing a fire to do some butchering.

Pa. News noticed this morning that the City Recreation ice skating pond on Mahoning avenue has little water in it. It probably won't be long till a crew fills it, now that ice and snow have arrived.

Automobiles lined the hills last night in the outskirts of the city as December was ushered in with snow and ice. Many of the motorists were away yesterday when the storm started and were on their way home before some of the hills had been ashed Pa. News was informed.

November's birth record at the Jameson Memorial hospital was 120, it was stated today, a slight drop from the number of births recorded monthly during the past three months, but the number was still 40 more than that recorded in November of 1945. This brings the (Continued on Page Two)

Cold Wave Sweeps Into Area Suddenly

(By International News Service)
The freezing tentacles of a cold wave engulfed Pennsylvania today scattering snow flurries in the mountains and whipping icy blasts of wind across the lowlands.

Coal users anxiously eyed their fast-emptying bins as the mercury nosedived to the twenties and below throughout the state during the night, and then began creeping up at dawn. However, temperatures were expected to remain below the freezing point.

Strong winds of 20 to 25 miles an hour cut across the Philadelphia area, and there were a few light snow flurries in Center City.

Frigid temperatures prevailed through central Pennsylvania, and heavy snow was reported in the mountain regions. The state capital saw its first snow of the winter.

The cold wave took on danger signs in western Pennsylvania as mirrors of ice glazed highways in the wake of snow squalls. Pittsburgh had an overnight low of 15 degrees, with the temperature expected to reach 28 today. Meadville was blanketed by two inches of snow, while ice snarled traffic on Altoona's hilly streets.

Three Small Children Die As Home Burns At West Middlesex

(Special To The News)
WEST MIDDLESEX, Dec. 2.—Fire of undetermined origin in the one-room cabin home of Mr. and Mrs. George Empirich, of Penn. avenue, at an early hour this morning, claimed the lives of their three small children.

The children, Carol, aged 4, Charles, aged 2, and John, five months died when the fire, which the authorities believe resulted from an overheated stove, swept through the cabin while the mother had gone to a nearby well to draw water.

John Empirich, the father, had left the house at 6:30 o'clock to go to his work in the Wheatland yards of the Pennsylvania Railroad, leaving his wife and children still in bed. Shortly afterwards, Mrs. Empirich arose and left the home to get water.

On her return, she found the room a mass of flames. She was unable to enter to rescue her children.

The blaze quickly consumed the one-room cabin, firemen being prevented from getting to the scene speedily, because of the icy condition of the streets, and also due to the fact that the scene of the blaze is at the top of Furnace Hill, in the west end of town.

Elks' Lodge Has Annual Memorial

Service On Sunday Night Is Tribute To Memory Of Deceased Elks Of Year
Those brother Elks who went on "to the grand lodge" during the past year were remembered reverently and sentimentally Sunday night, December 1 when the annual memorial services of Lodge No. 69 was held in the Elks' Home in North Mill street.

For the services the lodge hall was filled. The memorial was in charge of the Exalted Ruler, Wilber A. Whittington, with the various officers and trustees of the lodge assisting.

The speaker of the evening was Leonard M. Lippert, Past Exalted Ruler of McKeesport Lodge 136 and chairman of the Grand Lodge Credential Committee. For the most part he dwelt upon the fine qualities of the departed members for it is axiomatic in the Elks that "the faults of our brothers we write upon the sands."

Special Music
The music for the memorial was especially good. The recently formed Elks Chorus, directed by Dave Jones and accompanied by Bill Earl made (Continued on Page Two)

Bags Deer Early Today In Pulaski Township

To John Braho, of Pulaski township, goes the honor of reporting the first deer kill of the season, which got under way at 7 o'clock this morning. Just two hours and a half later, John had bagged a 12-point buck weighing 190 pounds in the vicinity of his home, near Nashua.

Braho was hunting by himself when he made the kill. Which only goes to prove that hunters do not have to make the trek to the big woods any more to get their deer.

Local game officials believe there are around thirty deer scattered about Lawrence county, and other kills are expected locally before the season ends.

Local Flier In Forced Landing In Beaver County

Frank P. Durbin, of 608 Boston avenue, crash landed a plane from the New Castle airport in a wheat field near Beaver Falls on Saturday afternoon. It was reported by the Pennsylvania State Police from the Rochester barracks. The pilot sustained lacerations of the lower lip and right hand, also bruises to the head.

Durbin, on a cross-country hop, it was reported, ran out of gas after becoming lost in a fog that covered the Beaver Valley. Sighting an open wheat field, he attempted a forced landing. The field was soft, the State police said, and the landing gear of the plane struck a large rock pile that the pilot failed to see.

Damage to the plane was a broken wing strut and a damaged landing gear.

The Communist Daily Worker said Britain was about to enter a far-reaching military pact with the U. S.

First Chilly Blast Of Winter Is Noted

December ushered in with first real snow storm and sub-freezing temperatures
Lawrence county residents felt the first chilly blast of winter, when a sudden drop in the temperature, was accompanied by the first real snow storm of the year, the advent of wintry weather arriving later than usual.

Snow began falling early in the afternoon, much of the first down-fall melting as it hit the warm ground, but as the temperature continued to drop, the melted snow turned to ice on the highways, making driving a precarious proposition, and motorists who were caught out on the highways, a considerable distance from home had a hard time getting back, they reported, as the roads were not ashed immediately, the sudden storm catching the departments as well as motorists by surprise.

During the evening, however, both the streets in the city and the highways outside were ashed, but the going was still treacherous in spots. Official temperature readings showed the mercury dropped to 10 above zero during the night, with a little better than an half inch of snow being noted.

J. Walter Flynn, 19 South Greenwood avenue, is able to be up and about his home, after being confined to his bed by illness for the past three months.

Federal Judge Outlines Views On Showdown

Lewis Enters Court Surrounded By Battery Of United Mine Workers Attorneys

SECRETARY KRUG TO BE WITNESS
By PHILLIPS J. PECK
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough said today that if John L. Lewis is found guilty of contempt of court the nature of the punishment will depend on whether Lewis proves he acted in "good faith" in causing the coal shutdown.

The jurist said he believed that the defendants would seek to prove they "acted in good faith" so that even should they be found guilty of contempt, punishment would be very different than punishment for a deliberate violation of the agreement.

Judge Goldsborough was referring to Lewis' refusal to obey a court order directing him to withdraw his notice of termination of the United Mine Workers wage agreement with the government.

Outlines Views
The court also outlined his views on the showdown between Lewis and the government.

Goldsborough said the United Mine Workers union and Lewis apparently were seeking to show that the contract termination clause in the contract between the UMW and the government still was in effect.

The judge pointed out that on the other hand the government contended that this section did not apply in the agreement between Lewis and Interior Secretary Krug under which the government took control of the coal mines last spring.

The court so stated in overruling a defense objection to the questions government attorneys were putting in redirect examination of federal coal mines administrator N. H. Collison.

Material To Case
Goldsborough said that any effort to show that the Smith-connelly act applies is material to the contempt case. The Smith-Connelly act forbids strikes against government-held properties.

The government brought out today that the coal mines administration had authorized fines and penalties totaling $158,000 up to Nov. 22 for what it called "improper" work stoppages by miners.

The figure does not reflect applications to levy fines made by coal mine operators in recent days.

The justice department announced earlier that Secretary Krug will be a government witness in the contempt trial.

Following the snowfall of Sunday afternoon, Pa. New heard the first "music" about 7:45, of ill-fitting tire chains striking fenders of an automobile going down East Washington street. About the stroke of ten, the same sounds could be heard; the automobile evidently on its return trip.

December came on on Sunday and as the day wore on, a Christmas snow started falling lightly, and steadily increased for several hours, until the city and countryside were covered with a coating of white. Traffic conditions were such that the first call for ashing hills, auto chains, etc., developed, and many motorists caught out in the storm during the evening found some difficult traveling.

Only eighteen babies were born at the Jameson Memorial hospital over the weekend, November being ushered out by the stark with a set of twins for Mr. and Mrs. William A. FEDERAL JUDGE OUTLINES VIEWS ON SHOWDOWN

United Mine Workers union attorneys when the trial resumed this morning.

Welly K. Hopkins, chief counsel for the UMW, resumed cross-examination of Navy Captain N. H. Colbisson, federal coal mines administrator, after Sonnett's announcement.

Hopkins completed his cross-examination of Colbisson during the first 25 minutes of the morning session.

Tien Sonnett proceeded to introduce numerous government exhibits. They included regulations for operation of the mines under federal control and various orders of the coal mines administration to its operating managers.

Judge Goldsborough inquired as to the reason for the exhibits.

Sonnett answered that "the purpose is to demonstrate that the government was exercising a sovereign function."

The union previously had contended that the coal case represented an ordinary labor dispute and the government was not performing a sovereign function. The Norris-LaGuardia act prohibits injunctions in labor disputes between private employers and employees.

Little Change

As Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough convened court following the week-end recess prospects of a long coal famine that would bring the nation's economy to a virtual standstill were unchanged.

A high federal official said "there can be no backing down now" in the government's fight to end what it contends is an illegal walkout by the 400,000 members of the UMW.

The official added that he saw no sign that Lewis would back down. He predicted grimly that it may take six months to smash the walkout.

Southern Directors Meet

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The board of directors of the southern coal producers' association met in Washington today to determine whether to perpetuate the current coal dispute with John L. Lewis and his United Mine Workers.

Edward R. Burke, president of the association declined to comment as he entered the conference.

Previously, Burke had stated that he was willing to negotiate with the UMW provided the soft coal miners will go back to work.

insistence has prevented the atomic energy commission from getting anywhere.

Attacking British, Australian and Canadian proposals to limit the veto power in the security council, Soviet Vice Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky was painfully blunt. Addressing a Sunday meeting of the United Nations political and security committee, he declared:

"No Limitations"

"I won't mince words. We are opposed to all fictitious whether they are judicial or political. These resolutions before us are fictitious. We will avoid camouflage. We say that we will agree to no limitation of any kind on the use of the so-called veto."

"These proposals which have been made by Australia and Canada and Great Britain will not limit the veto and therefore they are unnecessary. If they would work, then the Soviet would have even greater reason to oppose them."

reparations, is the related issue of frontier adjustment and demilitarization on the Bulgarian side bordering on Greece. The Paris conference of twenty-one nations voted in favor of both points, in the face of bitter opposition by Russia and her five bloc members. The Greeks maintained that a "rectification of the Bulgarian frontier was essential to protect Salonika against another invasion."

Issue Raised Storm

The issue, which raised a tremendous storm in Paris whiplashed further by Greek demands that Albania be stripped of northern Epirus, looms again with the same violence. A request already has been received at the Waldorf from Premier Constantin Tsaldaris for a hearing by the Big Four of Greek claims against Bulgaria and Albania. The Greek statesman is expected in New York in a day or two.

Molotov has bristled every time Tsaldaris puts in an appearance or makes a demand, and in Paris the Russian delegation leader sharply assailed Tsaldaris personally and on political grounds. The United States and Britain have consistently championed the cause of Greece, resisting all moves by Albania and Bulgaria to gain the advantage.

Another major problem also wants consideration by the council, namely Germany. Dozens of experts and advisors from the four delegations are marking time in New York for a summons to the Waldorf's thirty-seventh floor round-table.

HOW THE NATION'S MEDICAL BILLS ARE DIVIDED

DRUGS AND PHARMACEUTICALS	24%
PHYSICIANS' SERVICES	29%
NURSES	3%
MISCELLANEOUS	17%
PRIVATE HOSPITALS AND SANATORIA	16%
DENTISTS' SERVICES	14%

$28.72 PER CAPITA
Spent for all types of MEDICAL SERVICE in 1942—divided as follows:

DRUGS	8.17
DOCTORS	8.43
DENTISTS	4.03
HOSPITALS	4.69
NURSES	1.90
MISCELLANEOUS	5.00

MOST OF US are generally under the impression that doctors and dentists receive most of the money spent for medical purposes. As the charts and tables will show, this is far from true. Out of the total national medical bill for 1942, (according to Medical Economics Magazine) 57 per cent of every dollar was spent for drugs, hospitals, nurses and other supplies and services.

America's level of health is the highest in the world, but our physicians, dentists, pharmacists, hospitals, nurses and technicians are constantly striving to make that medical dollar buy MORE health for you.

PREPAID medical and hospital insurance plans, the VOLUNTARY American way, are now available to more than 100,000,000 workers.... Ask your doctor about it.

Given in marriage by her brother, James P. Barrett, the bride wore a gown of white embroidered taffeta with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. From an ivory comb head-dress fell a Chantilly lace mantilla. She carried a white prayer book with a marker of white carnations and white 'mums and streamers caught with white baby 'mums.

Her maid of honor was her sister, Miss Patricia Barrett, who wore a pale pink taffeta gown with full skirt and a boat neckline, a head-dress of pale pink net with matching velvet bows and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white rosebuds and baby 'mums.

Thomas Carey was best man and ushers were Charles Capitola and Joseph Holstner.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at The Castleton to 20 guests followed in the afternoon by a reception from 1 to 4 o'clock attended by nearly 200 friends and relatives. 'Mums formed the decorations and a tiered wedding cake was a feature.

Mr. and Mrs. Capitola left on a wedding trip to Cleveland and on their return they will be at home after December 9 in an apartment at 301 North Mercer street.

THOMAS-RILEY CHURCH WEDDING

Spruce trees in double tier and graduated in height on either side of the altar with a large bouquet of white chrysanthemums and white snapdragons in the center formed the effective setting for one of the loveliest weddings of the holiday season in the First Presbyterian church Saturday evening when Miss Marjorie Jane Thomas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gwilym Wilfred Thomas, of 210 Summer avenue, became the bride of Fred L. Riley, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Riley, of 1210 East Washington street. White candles in seven-branched candelabra lighted the scene. Dr. R. F. Galbreath officiated at the 7 o'clock ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory brocade taffeta fashioned with a hoopskirt and sweeping train. Her veil that fell from a Dutch cap of Alencon lace was the one worn by her sister, Mrs. Graham H. McEntire, of Copenhagen, Denmark, at her wedding here a year ago. The bride carried a lily handkerchief trimmed with carnations and lace sent from Ireland by Mrs. McEntire and in her shoe was a traditional 'sixpence for luck'. Her flowers were a shower bouquet of white anemone 'mums.

Mrs. William Andrew, of Butler, wore a colonial style gown of pale aqua blue brocade taffeta with an ostrich tip head-dress and shower bouquet of anemone 'mums in tones of rose. Bridesmaids, the Misses Janet Hartland, Fern Riley, and Betty Drie, wore gowns of pale gold brocade taffeta, ostrich tip plume head-dresses of fuchsia and carried bouquets of yellow 'mums.

As best man the groom had his father and ushers were Robert Lennig, Robert Williams, and Harvey J. J. J.

Organ music was played by Garth Edmundson and soloist was Mrs. James A. Rugh, who sang "Because", "Thru the Years", and "The Lord's Prayer".

The ceremony was followed by a reception in the coral room of The Castleton where the bride and groom received several hundred guests before a background of palms and ferns. Buffet refreshments were served from a table where a tiered wedding cake was a feature of the decorations.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley have taken up residence in an apartment at 307 North Shenango street.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Riley are graduates of New Castle High School. She attended Miss Connelly's Secretarial school in Pittsburgh is employed in the office of the Greater New Castle association. Mr. Riley, who served as a lieutenant with the Seventh Army, is enrolled at Westminster college.

WASHINGTON CALLING

Mounting Resentment Against Strikes In U. S.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—In the innumerable post-mortems on the November 5 landslide, little has been said about the effect of the cry of Communism which was raised by Republicans from one side of the country to the other. Shrewd analysts of the election returns have now concluded that this was one of the most potent forces in the shift from the party in power to the opposition.

Above all, it underscored the fears of millions of Americans who are disturbed by the upheaval of continuing strikes in major industries. Over and over again, the quarrel between Communists and non-Communists in the labor movement furnished what seemed to be proof from the enemy's own camp.

In Democratic campaign headquarters here, there was a sense of helplessness as increasingly the word "Communist" became a smear word to be hurled at liberals and middle-of-the-roads along with extreme leftists. One of the most effective shots in this propaganda warfare came from what was apparently a non-political source.

Blast by F. B. I. Head

Speaking before the American Legion convention in San Francisco on September 30, J. Edgar Hoover, head of the FBI, let loose a resounding blast against Communists in the United States. He said more or less directly that they were at work at every level and in every organization. Hoover's charges were repeated over and over again throughout the campaign.

It was first reported to Democratic headquarters here that Hoover had said there were thousands of Communists in the government in Washington. This aroused the ire of Chairman Robert Hannegan, who promptly called Attorney General Tom C. Clark to ask how it happened that Hoover was making a speech with such obvious political implications.

This has long been a point of sensitivity in the Department of Justice. Often in the past it has seemed to be Hoover rather than the attorney general who was making policy for the department. Clark, who would hardly be described as the strongest attorney general in American history, promised to look into the Hoover speech.

Hoover, it developed, had not made this statement that there were thousands of Communists in the government. But according to the FBI director they are everywhere else—in "some newspapers, magazines, books, radio and the screen . . . some churches, schools, colleges and even fraternal orders . . ."

Propaganda Adroitly Executed
"Their propaganda," said Hoover, "skillfully designed and adroitly executed, has been projected into practically every phase of our national life. The fact that the Communist Party in the United States claims some 100,000 members has lulled many Americans into a feeling of false complacency. I would not be concerned if we were dealing with only 100,000 Communists."

The Communists themselves boast that for every party member there are 10 others ready to do the party's work. These include their satellites, their fellow-travelers and their so-called progressives. They have maneuvered themselves into positions of influence in many of the departments of the federal government. They are either willing to be led or have been duped into obeying the dictates of others."

This could be the prelude for the kind of Red hunt that took place after World War I. The A. Mitchell Palmer witch-hunt of that earlier day was a broad sweep that caught up not only Communists and radicals but honest liberals who believed in defending traditional American liberties.

Investigation Planned
Hoover will have no trouble in getting all the money he wants from Congress. That is one place where Republican energy will not be felt. The FBI chief has always been more popular with the Republicans than with the Democrats.

Representative J. Parnell Thomas, the new chairman of the House Un-American Activities Committee, is planning an extensive investigation of Red activities to be linked with public hearings that are expected to produce sensational headlines. The trouble with this committee in the past has been that it used a shotgun technique. Little people on the political fringe have been hit, some of them innocent. Some of them not so innocent. But the committee has never demonstrated any ability to get at the vital Communist connections in the labor movement.

To do the last would take skill, persistence and a realistic knowledge of where Communism begins and ends. It would not be so productive, immediately at least, of sensational headlines and stormy hearings. The danger is that mounting public resentment against strikes and strikes will furnish the fuel for a witch-burning that could do great harm to our democracy.

A SUBTLE THREAT

A man with a beautiful hangover was leading a pink elephant down the street on a rope. The animal kept stopping at every fire plug, which caused the owner to give a powerful jerk on the rope and say: "If you don't stop doing that, I'll take an aspirin and you won't be here."

Back To The Mines, Daddy!

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

(Distributed By International News Service)
There is news that UNRRA has been shipping goods to China . . . This takes the place of the old bundles to Britain campaign.

I don't know how Fiorello got in the kirk business but a labor member of parliament says that Chinese women are against enrichment.

We are awaiting word any day now that Mr. La Guardia has been named governor of Trieste and we are being very brave about it.

Opportunity is never very far away from any man . . . Hollywood reports a writer got a hot idea while shaving and sold it for $10,000.

Sales of razors immediately picked up and I hear that several hack writers now are scraping their chins twice a day.

It has just occurred to my wife that nylons are made from soft coal . . . Look for an early end to the mine strike.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

This is the last time, I hope, that I am going to talk about our recent silver wedding anniversary trip to the Pacific coast, but my heart is so full that it is overflowing—and when my heart overflows it always goes on paper.

I ask the editors who publish this column to let me have one more thing. Editors, you know, pay for this stuff, and it is really their money—and yours who buy the papers—that made our vacation possible.

Who cares about your trip and your private affairs? The editors may ask.

But my answer would be "They Do," and to prove it this article is written.

More than a thousand persons wrote us and sent us telegrams and cards and gifts when they read about our anniversary.

There were poems written by readers. Some were good, some bad—about the kind I would write—but all were well meant and sincere.

An eighty-nine-year-old lady I shall not mention her name, maybe she doesn't want to be known as 89, made me a lovely little case for buttons. You press it at the ends and it opens. For my wife she made a sewing case, with spoons of various-colored thread arranged around it.

A girl who merely signed herself "Carmen" sent a handkerchief with intricate lace all around it (pardon my description). I am no fashion expert. She did it all herself and it must have taken her at least a week.

There was homemade jam from California and a keg of spiced figs. There were glasses from Texas, with cowboys engraved in gold. There were nylon stockings and candy, flowers and even, yes, even a bottle of whiskey.

From Me To You

By MESEEEALL

Rather chilly . . . hey . . . It brings back memories . . . this doesn't concern you but we can't help but think about the past . . . One year ago yesterday the same kind of weather sneaked up on us . . . Several thousand men on their way home from the ETO moved into the staging area at Marseille, France . . . It was a beautiful day . . . the sun was out bright in the morning and warm enough to run around in shirt sleeves . . . around about supper time it blew cold . . . and we mean blew cold. The area there sits on top of mountains and not a whisp of breeze is left unmissed . . . Tents made up the shelter . . . there was a definite coal shortage . . . the temperature went down and the snows came . . . by midnight it was ten above . . . Not much sleeping took place . . . Everyone was up and fully dressed . . . including great coats . . . And those who couldn't huddle next to a small stove, attempted to keep warm by wrapping in blankets. Did we complain . . . very little . . . We were on our way back to the USA . . . where people lived in comfort . . . no coal shortage there.

We've been a civilian eleven months now . . . what an eleven months. At the turn of the year a transportation strike had just ended . . . then came the auto, the steel, the power, the motion picture, the beer, the coal and several others . . . All causing strife . . . sadness, leaving hungry folks in the various wakes.

So soon the people have forgotten . . . it makes no difference about those who can walk and work . . . But there are men today that need your attention . . . their home is a hospital bed. They need your kind understanding . . . would you do as much for them as they have done for you?

No one is going to ask you at this time to give anything . . . you are all old enough, intelligent enough and human enough to know the score . . . All we ask is that you think about your own life . . . LIFE IS BEAUTIFUL . . . and you get out of living exactly what you put into living . . . not one pound more.

Sees Program Urged As Being In Reverse

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2. AS A RULE when the politicians tend to behave recklessly with the public funds it is the business men of the country who protest, warn and counsel restraint. Therefore, it is somewhat startling when business men reverse this procedure and urge action which appears more reckless and less sound than that proposed by the politicians.

YET, that seems exactly what the United States Chamber of Commerce has done in its report made public on Monday. A week or so ago the Republican House Steering Committee promised a personal income-tax reduction of 20 per cent in the coming session. But thoughtful Republican senators, such as Senators Taft, Capper, Bridges and others, have declined to endorse this idea on the ground that a balanced budget and some step toward tax reduction must come first; that to rush in and slice taxes right off the bat would be highly irresponsible Federal finance, almost certain to invite disaster.

SUCH is the emphatic view, too, of most of the really competent economists in the country, notably among whom is Mr. B. M. Baruch, who right after the war in vain cautioned his own party against a tax reduction which increased inflationary pressure, pointing out that the safe and sensible thing was to balance the budget and reduce the debt in a period of prosperity when people had the money to pay taxes and no hardship was imposed. Nevertheless, here is the Chamber of Commerce urging not a 20 per cent reduction in the individual income tax but a 25 per cent reduction. In addition, it calls for further reductions in corporation taxes, in estate and gift taxes, in the capital gains tax of all war-excess taxes, of the tax on property transportation and levies of the "inflator" type, and the elimination of "double taxation" on corporation earnings and dividends.

IN brief, here is one of the great business organizations of the nation recommending a program of tax reduction far greater than any proposed by the practical politicians—a program that will add to the dangers of inflation and make all talk of balancing the budget and reducing the debt hollow and hypocritical. The estimate is that the Chamber of Commerce reductions would curtail the Federal revenue approximately two billion dollars. Had such a proposition been made by the politicians, one would expect business men everywhere to howl that they were about to ruin the country, to denounce the idea as purely political and gird their loins to oppose its passage.

AND one would have expected the loudest howl and the strongest denunciation to come from the Chamber of Commerce. That the Chamber of Commerce should sponsor and promote so drastic a cut in tax revenue is well calculated to leave the average man aghast. It is true the Chamber refers to a balanced budget as vital but makes no balance can be achieved after a two-billion cut in revenue. It ignores almost completely the necessity of reducing the debt and also the fact that every informed man in both parties knows that the task of curtailing Federal expenditures so as to make income equal outgo is tremendous even with revenue rolling in at present tax rates.

LOOKING back now, nearly every competent person agrees that not only the Federal Treasury but the national economy as a whole would be vastly more wholesome if the 1945 tax reductions had not been made. Then, for political reasons, some 12,000,000 taxpayers in the lowest brackets were rendered exempt altogether and the excess-profits tax was repealed altogether. If that had not been done, the budget would now be in balance and a start on debt reduction would have been made. Then an orderly and gradual reduction in tax rates would have been easy.

NOW, if there is to be an approximation of a balanced budget, which the Chamber of Commerce says is vital, even the 20 per cent reduction proposed by House Republicans is clearly unwise. But a reduction of two billion dollars is worse than that. To have that proposal come from the United States Chamber of Commerce seems incredible. That is the last source one would have suspected. It used to be the New Dealers who thought balanced budgets unhealthy and the size of the national debt unimportant because "we owe it to ourselves." The Chamber of Commerce proposal makes one wonder whether the gentlemen who run it have become converted to that silly doctrine. The prospect that the politicians, whom the business men are supposed to restrain from going to extremes, should not have to restrain the business men is not without humor.

GRANDMA FUTTY CARRIES A LARGE WOODEN WHISTLE WITH HER WHEN SHE GOES SHOPPING

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

TRYING TO LIVE WITH GRANDMA

It's a nothing thing to look after the grandparents when they need financial and emotional assistance, even to have them in the home of the grandchildren, provided these grandparents do not give a menace to the grandchildren. But if you knew they would deliberately hamper you in the proper upbringing of your children no one in your home could be really happy with their presence.

"Dear Dr. Myers: My husband and I are in the dog house with his mother's family because he won't open our house to his mother to come and live with us. Her sisters believe it is our place to take her, since he is an only child, but they don't want her for more than a day's visit."

Enough To Live On

"Since her husband's death two years ago, she has lived in her own home. She works days but she would have to quit that if she came with us because where we live there is no access to the bus. She doesn't need to work, she has enough to see her through and her home is clear. But the reason we can't have her is because she is a queer person. She determined that everything be done how and when she says, and she will not let us alone about the children. We have three children, 9, 6 and 4."

"She has told our daughter, 9, she didn't have to do any of the things we asked her to do if we didn't want her. And if we did, we would have to pay for her. Her mind and respect their parents. They love their Daddy and he is good to them in every way."

A Small Home

"We have a small home and we live close together; where one person is you find the whole family. We walk together, play together and work together. If his mother comes into our home to live all day, we have worked for years spoiled, because right away we would have to let the children do as she says. The girls would soon lose their habits of studying their lessons, and piano practice would be forgotten. The girls would soon forget to keep their rooms clean, the boy would have his toys picked up for him and they all would soon be spoiled. There is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy can swim like a fish, run like a deer, climb like a squirrel, talk like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig or act like a jackass, according to climatic condition."

"He is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite. A noise covered with smiles. He is called a tornado because he comes at the most unexpected times, hits the most unexpected places and leaves everything a wreck behind him."

"He is a growing animal of superlative promise, to be fed, watered and kept warm, a joy forever, a periodic nuisance, the product of our times, the hope of a nation."

"Every boy is evidence that God is not yet discouraged of man."

"Were it not for boys, the newspapers would go unread and a thousand picture shows would go bankrupt. Boys are useful in running errands. A boy can easily do the family errands with the aid of five or six adults. The best with which a boy does an errand is equalled only by the speed of a turtle on a July day."

"The boy is a natural spectator. He watches parades, fires, fights, ball games, automobiles, boats and airplanes with equal favor, but will not watch the clock."

"The man who invents a clock that will stand on its head and sing a song when it strikes will win the undying gratitude of millions of families whose boys are forever coming to dinner about supper time."

"Boys faithfully imitate their dads in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners. A boy, if not washed too often and if kept in a cool quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hernias, swimming holes, fights and nine helpings of pie."

What People Say

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Edward R. Burke, president of the southern coal producers calls for a meeting with John L. Lewis. The only way we can get the coal is by making an agreement, and the only way to get an agreement is to start negotiations, and the sooner the better.

WASHINGTON — President Truman accepts the resignation of Paul Porter as OPA administrator. "There is no cause for pessimism over the economic outlook for the future if management and labor will, under freedom and direct will, control, demonstrate the kind of patriotic concern for the common good which has characterized our administration of the OPA."

DAY'S DRAMA

At dawn the light of day comes on. To start life's play anew. There is a role for everyone; A bit for all to do.

For some, the wedding bells ring out; For some, a dirge is tolled. In hospitals men wait about. First babies to behold.

Twixt birth and death the scenes are laid. With time for jest and song. Some walk in robes of pride arrayed; Some stumble into wrong.

Some speak of love's lines with tenderness. Some sigh that love is gone. Some, after struggle, reach success. And so life's play goes on.

The World and the Mud Puddles

"A BOY"

Juvenile delinquency are the words applied so frequently now days to acts of vandalism, robbery and even murder on the part of boys under the age of eighteen, extended to even boys under the age of twenty-one.

This has become a great problem for law enforcement officers, from the Constable up to the County Judge, to say nothing of the different societies supposed to provide cures; at least, provide some method of preventing these violent acts on the part of the youth of the land.

Boys' Clubs have been organized in many cities of the nation aiming to accomplish this. I quote the foreword from the annual report of one of these Clubs. It is a very refreshing statement. It describes "A BOY."

"After a male baby has grown out of long clothes and triangles and has acquired pants, freckles and so much dirt that relatives do not dare to kiss it between meals, it becomes a BOY. A boy is nature's answer to that false belief that there is no such thing as perpetual motion. A boy can swim like a fish, run like a deer, climb like a squirrel, talk like a mule, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig or act like a jackass, according to climatic condition."

"He is a piece of skin stretched over an appetite. A noise covered with smiles. He is called a tornado because he comes at the most unexpected times, hits the most unexpected places and leaves everything a wreck behind him."

"He is a growing animal of superlative promise, to be fed, watered and kept warm, a joy forever, a periodic nuisance, the product of our times, the hope of a nation."

"Every boy is evidence that God is not yet discouraged of man."

"Were it not for boys, the newspapers would go unread and a thousand picture shows would go bankrupt. Boys are useful in running errands. A boy can easily do the family errands with the aid of five or six adults. The best with which a boy does an errand is equalled only by the speed of a turtle on a July day."

"The boy is a natural spectator. He watches parades, fires, fights, ball games, automobiles, boats and airplanes with equal favor, but will not watch the clock."

"The man who invents a clock that will stand on its head and sing a song when it strikes will win the undying gratitude of millions of families whose boys are forever coming to dinner about supper time."

"Boys faithfully imitate their dads in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners. A boy, if not washed too often and if kept in a cool quiet place after each accident, will survive broken bones, hernias, swimming holes, fights and nine helpings of pie."

State Police Say:

It's a good habit always to make sure the hand brake is fully released before starting the car in motion. One way to avoid driving with the hand brake partially on is to pull it all the way back when setting it. Then you won't be able to start your car in motion until it has been released.

'When The Frost . . .'

There are the days when the words of James Whitcomb Riley keep running through our mind. "When the frost is on the pumpkin" and the fodder's in the shock."

The frost is on the "pumpkin" just now, that is if the "pumpkins" haven't been gathered into the barn. The corn is shocked, the barns are full, and down the cellar the farmer's wife has great quantities of spreads, and pickles and fruits and vegetables.

These are days of a little more ease on the farm. The broad expanses of Lawrence county farms are bare of growing crops, the long arduous work of the summer is past, and the preliminary work for next season has not yet started.

Of course there are the cattle and horses to care for, fences to be repaired, equipment to be tuned up, but these are not such demanding duties as growing crops.

City dwellers who know nothing of the late fall and early winter joys of the farm have missed something real, something fine. To sit around a huge open fireplace, with a bowl of apples and popcorn on the table, a jug of sweet cider handy, a newspaper, good book or the radio, far from the honking of horns and the acrid odors of gasoline and oil, there is pleasure unalloyed.

Back of him the farmer sees in retrospect those "sunup to sundown" days, ahead of him is the planning for the next season, but right now he is enjoying the fruits of his toil, the pleasures of his acres, he is in short living the life of a king.

And "it couldn't happen to a nicer guy".

Old New England

In scanning the election returns of New England on November 6, the older politician must have been reminded of old times. For a few decades ago New England was usually mentioned in political language as "Republican New England." That thrifty and enterprising section of the country could generally be counted on to support the Republican ticket in fair weather or foul. Then came the New Deal, and things weren't so good for the G.O.P. even in the northeastern section of the country. The mellow tones of President Roosevelt, plus the terrific amount of government spending for the lay public, was too much even for the G.O.P. elephant in New England.

This year, however, things seem to be returning to the normal again. Every state in the New England section, excepting Rhode Island, is now in the Republican camp, and went there with a bang. The Democrats succeeded in salvaging little Rhode Island. What is the matter with "Little Rhodey"? Well, for one thing, it is a purely manufacturing state with little or no rural population, and it is in the smaller cities and towns and the rural districts where the Republicans have always found their greatest strength.

But the Republican sweep in New England was pretty general this year. Maine was swept by the G.O.P. in September. Little Vermont remained overwhelmingly Republican by remaining normal. New Hampshire went right along with Vermont. Its election returns made it look as though it were almost unanimously Republican.

In Massachusetts, which for a quarter of a century has been a debatable state, the Republicans won a surprising victory. They not only defeated the venerable and distinguished Senator Walsh, but snowed under the popular Democratic Governor Tobin, who was looked on as a sure winner. There was a complete landslide in Connecticut, too.

There is a resurgence of New England possibilities for the Republican nomination for president. Maine has Senator Owen Brewster who has become a national figure; Massachusetts has the popular Senator Saltonstall, the attractive Senator-elect Henry Cabot Lodge, and Speaker-to-be Joe Martin, who has long been a national figure and will be all the more so during the next two years. Connecticut can point with pride to Governor Baldwin, now Senator-elect Baldwin. Taken all in all New England Republicans are doing pretty well.

For The Record

Like other Eastern European countries tied to Moscow's apron strings, Poland is showing little interest in redeeming her promise to hold free elections. The national balloting, originally scheduled for 1946, has now been put off until January 19 of next year. Parties and groups which do not see eye-to-eye with the government are hemmed in and discriminated against at every turn.

The sharp protest which the United States has sent to Warsaw against the postponement of the elections will probably not do the least bit of good. The rulers of Poland will pay no more attention than the Bulgars and Romanians to the American plea that all parties be given equal facilities and rights. That is not the communist idea of democracy, and it is the communist idea which prevails in these countries.

But the notes which the State department has been sending are not so much waste paper and waste motion. If they accomplish nothing else, they keep the record straight. They make it plain to all the world what the Poles are up to when they select, as the election date, a day in midwinter when the weather is so severe that few of the Polish peasants living on farms will be able to get to the polls.

They prevent the Poles from pretending that elections, in which anti-communists have no real chance to present their side, are really free. It is probably impossible, as long as the Russians control what goes on in Warsaw, to influence the Poles to rely more heavily on freedom and democracy. But Washington can at least make sure that the world does not mistake dictatorships for democracies and controlled polls for free elections.

Indian Leaders, British To Talk

LONDON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The British Cabinet went into session today to make final arrangements for the conference with leaders of India's factions called to salvage the plan for Indian independence. It was planned to hold separate meetings tonight with Viscount Wavell, Indian viceroy, Pandit Jawaharlal Nehru, Hindu leader and vice president of the interim government, and Mohammed Ali Jinnah, Moslem chief. The Cabinet was said to be planning to set the actual agenda in tonight's meetings, aiming at concluding the talks within five days to enable Nehru to arrive in India prior to next Monday. The Indian constituent assembly is scheduled to open on that day. The Kiwi lays the largest eggs, in proportion to its size, of all the birds of the world. Some Nations Fear U. S. May Cut Down Aid

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Representatives of some major powers in Washington today were reported keenly concerned over reports that the United States plans to curtail sharply its reconstruction aid to foreign lands.

No formal official statement of this policy has been made by the State Department. The most that Secretary of State James F. Byrnes has said is that United States money for relief and reconstruction will be based, first on need of the applicant, and second, on the attitude of the applicant to the United States.

Some Complaints

This statement was inspired by complaints of certain countries that the United States was resorting to "dollar diplomacy" and "economic imperialism."

The real cause of fright has been recent speeches made by lesser officials of the department. One was made by Spruille Braden and the other by John Carter Vincent, chief of the department's Far Eastern division.

What these two said was that the United States should follow the same sound business practices in making loans to foreign lands that private financial agencies do.

Carter, in talking about future economic relations with the Far East, particularly China, said pointedly that the United States could not lend to governments where corruption prevailed or where there were signs of instability of civil war.

Woman Held For Hurling Acid At Ex-Husband's Wife

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—Mrs. Ethel Lang, 30, of Philadelphia, was lodged in Lehigh county prison today on charges of hurling acid into the face of the wife of her former husband.

Police said Mrs. Lang threw the fluid at Mrs. Jeanne Kaufman, 29, during an argument at the Allentown Osteopathic hospital, where Mrs. Kaufman is employed as a technician. The victim was recovering from the burns, and physicians said her vision may not be impaired.

Allentown police records list Mrs. Lang as having been divorced by her first husband, Joseph Kaufman, on a charge of desertion, earlier this year.

She was arrested as she prepared to board a train for Philadelphia with her present husband, John, who was taken into custody with her, for investigation.

Patrolman Big Help To Stork

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Patrolman Clarence Cooper, of Station No. 12 in Pittsburgh, apparently has a way with babies.

Patrolman Cooper received a rush call early Saturday to take Mrs. Elsa Meuser, 20, to the hospital before the stork arrived. On the way, Cooper delivered a husky boy to the young mother.

Cooper was probably thinking of a job well-done, when he received a similar call early Sunday to rush Mrs. Elizabeth Boyds, 20, to the hospital in another race with the stork.

Patrolman Cooper arrived at the Boyds' home and found the long-legged bird already there. He delivered another baby—this time a fine young girl.

Iranian Premier Puts Off Election

LONDON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—A Tehran dispatch to the London Daily Telegraph stated today that Premier Ahmad Ghassemlou has postponed Iranian general elections scheduled to begin Sunday.

The dispatch added that the premier, under attack by the Azerbaijan province "democrats", decided that the elections could not begin on that date, as originally promised Russia.

The premier was said to be consolidating his party's position to face a united front by pro-Russian parties in Iran.

Meanwhile, the radio transmitter of Tabriz, capital of the "home rule" province, warned that if central government troops are sent to supervise the elections the act would be considered a "declaration of war."

Non-Resident Licenses Short

Deer Hunters From Other States Apply In Large Numbers For Permits

COURT HOUSE

It may be rather late to warn the deer in the mountain counties of the state, and they probably don't read this great family journal, anyway. What we could have told them is that the number of hunters this year will be increased over a year ago. This is especially true of the non-resident hunters.

On Saturday morning at nine o'clock County Treasurer Frank W. Hill had 100 non-resident hunting licenses. At 11:15 he had exactly none. All of them were sold. Butler county also sold out, as did Beaver and Mercer.

Saturday saw a motecade of deer hunters coming in from the west. On Grant street could be seen cars loaded with bedding, hampers, hunting equipment and red-capped men. The season promises to be a noisy one.

PREPARE FOR BUDGET

Within a short time County Controller Andrew W. Dodds will begin his work of recapitulating the accounts of the year in order to get his annual statement out.

Comes then the budget, and a quick glance at the financial condition of the county seems to indicate that an increase in the tax levy is more than possible. There is some fat still left in the current budget, but by December 31 the expenditures will not be too far from the receipts, remembering, of course, that a floating balance must be kept until taxes start to come in. The commissioners will probably be presented with a request by the appointed employees for an increase in salaries. The feeling in the various offices is that the increase given last year was a small one and has long since been eaten up by the increased cost of living. This and some improvements that are in the making would necessitate an increase.

The institutional fund is in good shape and no increase is looked for there. A decrease is not impossible, but the general fund levy will probably be raised unless the county commissioners can do a spot of plain and fancy juggling.

BOOING OF BEVIN AT GRID CONTEST LAID TO JEW ISSUE

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Associates of British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today that the Palestine question probably was the reason why Bevin was booed for several minutes while attending a football game at the Polo Grounds yesterday.

The British members of the "big four" foreign ministers council, now meeting in New York, took the demonstration good-naturedly.

He was roundly booed at the half time and when he and his party left shortly before the end of the contest between the Los Angeles Rams and the Giants.

Search Parties Find Teachers Lost In Woods

Women Instructors Lose Way In Snow And Mountains Looking For Evergreen

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Two women school teachers lost on a desolate Blue Ridge mountain north of Harrisburg were found huddled safely by a fire today by search parties of state police and volunteers who had plodded through snowdrifts for six hours.

The teachers—Miss Marion L. Forney of Paxtang, a Harrisburg suburb, and Miss Beatrice Watkins of Wisconsin—had gone into the woods on a hiking expedition to find evergreen boughs for decorating their classrooms.

They had driven to the Powells Valley side of the Blue Ridge mountain south of Lykens with Miss Watkins' mother, Mrs. Thomas Watkins, yesterday and had left her in the car while they went for the evergreen boughs.

After waiting for them to come back for nearly four hours, Mrs. Watkins notified state police, who immediately organized search parties. Snow began falling at 10 p. m. and anxiety prevailed as to whether the lost teachers were able to find shelter from the sub-freezing temperatures.

The search party, comprised of about 40 persons, split up into three groups, each working close together on the hazardous search, bearing torches and medical equipment.

The fire built by the teachers was finally sighted at two o'clock and the teachers were found to be in good condition, with no hospitalization necessary, after having been lost for 12 hours.

Alert Detective Recovers Prize Heirloom Jewels

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—More than $5,000 worth of stolen jewelry, including some pieces dating back to Revolutionary days, was back in the hands of the rightful owner today due to the alertness of a city detective.

The sleuth, Max Berg, saw a man carrying two handbags and a woman's fur coat on a West Philadelphia street, and stopped to question him.

The burdened pedestrian was quite alib at that, explaining that he and his wife had a disagreement and he was moving out. But when Berg asked what the bags contained, the man dropped them and fled.

Caught after a short chase, he identified himself as Harry Glenn, 28. Berg had hardly arrived at a police station, with his captive when a call came in saying that two bags and a fur coat had been stolen from the parked automobile of Maj. William T. Devan, of Edgewood, Md., arsenal.

Devan identified those brought in by Berg as his property, explaining that many of the jewels had been inherited from his grandmother, and dated back to the 18th century.

Begin Trials Of German Accused Of 'Mercy' Killings

FRANKFURT, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The trial of the first batch of 48 German doctors and male and female nurses charged with the "mercy" killing of thousands of concentration camp victims opened today before a six-man German court. It was the first time that Germans had presided in the trial of fellow-nationals charged with war crimes.

Today's group of six were charged with responsibility for the killings at Eichberg institution only.

Seek To Prevent Further Riots In Shanghai, China

SHANGHAI, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Chinese army units and civil police patrolled the streets of Shanghai today, alerted for further riots which in two days saw scores of persons wounded by gunfire or injured by thrown rocks.

"There was no accurate tally of casualties with varying reports listing from 40 to 100 persons injured. Chinese newspapers reported six persons dead, but there apparently was no basis for this figure."

American and British residents were staying close to their homes, although there was no definite anti-foreign trend in the riots. American army and navy personnel were confined to quarters.

Mayor K. C. Wu, in radio broadcast, threatened "direct action" against rioters—in effect a "shootto-kill" order—but declared the situation was returning to normal.

Wu indicated he placed the blame for the disturbances on Chinese Communist factions. Most observers saw the riots as a Communist-inspired demonstration against the Nanking government of Chiang Kai-Shek.

At the height of the riots Saturday evening an estimated 50,000 Chinese stormed through the streets, breaking shop windows, and fighting police with makeshift weapons.

A tornado can take a tight-fitting cork out of a bottle. It reduces the air pressure to the extent that the normal pressure inside the bottle blows out the cork.

Divorce Sought By Una Merkel

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Actress Una Merkel today was reported planning to divorce Donald L. Burla, aviation executive with an office in Dayton, Ohio.

Hollywood reports quoted the actress' father, Arno Merkel, as saying a year ago his daughter and Burla had a series of quarrels and were separated a great deal.

At that time Burla reportedly admitted he and Miss Merkel were separated and he wouldn't oppose her getting a divorce.

Miss Merkel, almost completely recovered from a long illness, has been signed to a long-term contract with Eagle Lion, in whose picture, "It's A Joke, Son", she has the feminine lead.

DEATH ACCIDENTAL

SOMERSET, Pa., Dec. 2.—(INS)—The Somerset county coroner today listed as accidental the shotgun death of Walter Newman, 10, who was killed while his brother, James, was cleaning his gun. James told police the gun went off when he threw it over his shoulder. The charge striking his brother.

Steel Output Drops Steadily In Youngstown

Rate Has Slumped To 35% Compared To 91% As Result Of Coal Strike

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Dec. 2.—(INS)—The production of ingot in the Youngstown area as a result of the coal strike continued its steady drop today.

The steelmaking rate has hit an estimated 35 per cent compared to 91 per cent of capacity a few weeks ago. Further cuts are expected by the end of the week.

Some 20,000 steelworkers in the area already have been idled by the strike, which has cost more than a million dollars in wages and several million dollars in industrial production.

Only 35 of the 83 open hearths and nine of the 25 blast furnaces in the area were operating last night and all but two steel producers in the district have sliced production.

Republic Steel Corporation's Warren Works and the Sharon Steel Corporation's Lowellville Works still were operating a total of two blast furnaces, eight open hearths and an electric furnace.

Although fabricating plants reopened after the Thanksgiving holiday shut-down, operations were expected to be curtailed soon by a lack of steel.

Also affected by the strike and layoff of other industrial workers have been railroad men. The number of furloughed or working short time has been estimated in the hundreds.

Indoor Christmas Tree Lighting Is Not To Be Barred

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—It's all right to light up the kids' indoor Christmas trees, Santa Claus, but leave the others dark.

John D. Small, Civilian Production Administrator, gave the word tonight. He ruled the 21-state dim-out banning ornamental lighting because of the coal strike was not meant to cover indoor Christmas trees in homes.

But it does apply to indoor trees in stores and other business buildings, and all outdoor Christmas trees.

DOCTORS WARN CONSTIPATED FOLKS ABOUT LAZY BILE

IT IS SAID constipation causes many human discomforts—headaches, lack of energy and mental dullness being but a few, but don't worry—

For years a noted Ohio Doctor, Dr. F. M. Edwards, successfully treated scores of patients for constipation with his famous Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now sold by druggists everywhere.

Olive Tablets, being purely vegetable, are wonderful! They not only gently yet thoroughly cleanse the bowels but also pep up lazy bile secretion to help digest fatty foods. Test their goodness tonight without fail! 15c, 30c. Follow label directions. All drugstores.

Anniversary Of Atomic Energy Meeting Observed

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Four years ago today a group of scientists led by Enrico Fermi, world famous physicist, gathered under the west stands of Stagg field, on the University of Chicago campus, to witness the first demonstration of atomic energy.

Forty-one persons saw the "Chicago pile experiment" set up a self-sustaining chain of atomic reaction which was to lead to creation of the world's most destructive weapon—the atomic bomb.

Today, most of the men who saw the experiment, led by Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves, chief of the Manhattan bomb project, are meeting at the Chicago museum of science and industry to celebrate the anniversary.

They include members of the staff of the Argonne national laboratory and representatives of 25 universities.

New York Site For U.N. Headquarters Will Be Rejected

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Rejection of Flushing Meadows, New York, in favor of San Francisco or Philadelphia as permanent headquarters for the United Nations was predicted today.

Authoritative reports said the U. N. subcommittee on sites would file its recommendation Tuesday with the headquarters committee.

Although various sites in the San Francisco bay area have been proposed by Mayor Roger Lapham, it is expected the U. N. will vote to set up permanent peace headquarters at the Presidio army base.

The subcommittee has just returned from visits to Philadelphia, Boston, Westchester, New York and San Francisco.

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Conrad Nagel And Wife Are Separated

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Conrad Nagel admitted to Hollywood friends today he and his bride of a year, Actress Lynn Merrick, had come to a parting of the ways. Nagel said:

"I am sorry to say Lynn and I have decided to get a divorce. Our marriage just hasn't worked out. I have been on the road with 'State of the Union' while she has been in San Francisco."

"Perhaps it is the difference in our ages, but we haven't been able to make a go of our marriage. We are both sorry."

Nagel, 46, and Miss Merrick, 24, were married last December in a surprise ceremony in New Jersey.

Funeral Rites For Edward Budd, Industry Pioneer

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow in Philadelphia for Edward G. Budd, pioneer industrialist who died from a heart attack Saturday at his home in the Germantown section. He was 75.

The Rev. Dr. J. S. Ladd Thomas, dean of Temple University School of Theology, will officiate at the services to be conducted at the First Methodist Episcopal Church of Germantown. Burial will be in West Laurel Hill Cemetery.

The famed industrialist gave America its first all-steel automobiles, streamlined railroad trains and stainless steel airplanes.

How To Stretch Supply Of Coal

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Here's what the Solid Fuels Administration says you should do to stretch your household coal supplies:

- 1—Make certain that walls of the fire box and the flues are clear of soot and ash, which act as insulators on water jackets and air magazines.
- 2—Use furnace cement to caulk all seams on the outside of the furnace and on smoke pipe joints.
- 3—Inspect grates and remove any broken ones.
- 4—Be sure you operate your damper properly. If you don't know how, ask a furnace expert for advice.
- 5—Maintain a thick fire bed. It is more efficient and economical than a thin one.
- 6—Keep the ashpit clean.
- 7—Use storm doors and windows where possible.
- 8—Close off unused rooms from other parts of the house, and lower window shades and blinds at night.

Switzerland now has 15,000 autos, 11,500 trucks, 1300 busses and 200 three-wheel wagons, a total of 28,000 vehicles in contrast to 96,762 in 1938.

HOW MUCH LIGHT IS ENOUGH TO READ IN BED?

Reading in bed is fun : : if your eyes have better lighting for easier, more comfortable seeing.

Perhaps you'll prefer cool Fluorescent light at the head of your bed. It provides soft, smooth, even lighting : : brings "daylight" indoors to add new color to your home. But for bedroom, or any room where seeing is concerned, be sure you have plenty of good light to help keep your eyes young and attractive.

You owe it to your eyes to find out about better home lighting now.

While Nature provides 500 footcandles of light, even in the shade, some homes show less than 5 footcandles.

PERILS OF PEACE

PORTLAND, Ore. — (INS) — The perils of peace caught up with Patrolman Charles W. Haller of the Portland police force. Haller, who escaped injury at Pearl Harbor and went through six major naval battles unscathed, was wounded in the leg when his .38 revolver slipped out of his belt and was discharged.

The new multi-facet process, which adds forty extra facets around the girdle of the diamond, is the first major improvement in diamond cutting since the eighteenth century when the round, or brilliant cut, was devised.

Krug Is Facing Congress Probe On Pipeline Plan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Secretary of the Interior J. A. Krug today faced a hostile congressional committee which subpoenaed him to explain whether he plans to send natural gas through the Big and Little Inland pipelines to relieve the fuel shortage.

The House surplus property committee took the highly unusual step of serving Krug's presence by subpoena after he failed to put in an appearance last week. Krug explained through an aide that he was too busy with the coal crisis.

The five-member House group is openly critical over the delay in putting the two wide 1,500-mile petroleum pipelines into use in the present emergency after hearing testimony that natural gas could be sent through them in two to four weeks.

Action Unduly Delayed
 Rep. Slaughter (D-Mo., committee chairman, and his two Democratic and two Republican colleagues feel also that disposal of the surplus properties, which cost the government $146,000,000, has been unduly delayed. They have been idle for more than a year and 16 bids to purchase or lease the pipelines, made last July, were rejected Nov. 19 by War Assets Administrator Littlejohn.

Temporary use of the pipelines during the present fuel shortage rests, however, with the Department of the Interior and Slaughter said his committee was "astounded" that it has taken so little action thus far.

Executives of natural gas and petroleum concerns have testified that while natural gas sent through the pipelines would make only a short dent in the coal shortage, it would permit continuation of essential services by hospitals, schools, etc.

Santa Claus Hears Local Youngsters Christmas Desires

With war toys off the counter, and war games forgotten, this season's crop of young Santa Claus petitioners are back to the old favorites again, says one of the town's leading Santa Clauses as he mops off his temporarily-bewhiskered chin.

Little girls step up shyly—and some not so shyly—with requests for dolls, dolls' houses, cribs, rocking chairs, dishes, books and teddy bears.

Little boys step up—and most of the boys are really shy to ask for erector sets, dump trucks, electric trains, toy rocket ships, cowboy pistols, chemistry sets, sleds, bicycles, new boots and wagons.

One practical-minded young man wanted some money so he could buy his own presents.

Another wanted Santa to walk around the store with him so he could point out the things he was asking for.

And another wanted the same things as last year.

"Don't you want some different toys?" Santa wanted to know.

"I didn't get those yet," the youngster said, indignantly.

But the best one was the little girl who walked up to the store Santa and said that she was hoping for a little box that made music. "That's all from you," she said. "I asked the one in Pittsburgh for the rest of the stuff."

Santa looked rather embarrassed.

Canadian Woman Hailed As Wheat Raising Champion

Samples Of Amy Kelsey's Crop Judged Best In Exposition At Chicago
 CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—(INS)—A Canadian woman, Mrs. Amy Kelsey of Erickson, B. C., was hailed today as the wheat-raising champion of the world as the International Livestock Exposition swung into its third day at Chicago.

Mrs. Kelsey, who was entered under the somewhat mystifying name of "A. Kelsey" in Absentia, was the first of her sex so honored.

Her victory featured yesterday's program which drew 59,000 visitors, the largest crowd in the 47-year history of the exposition.

Mrs. Kelsey's entry of hard red spring wheat of the reward variety was judged best of 3,000 grain samples on exhibition in the International amphitheater. It weighed 66.5 pounds a bushel. The record is 67.7.

L. E. Peterson of Victor, Mont., won the reserve title with wheat of the Kandred variety weighing 66.2 pounds a bushel.

George J. Sauerman of Crown Point, Ind., won both the hay championship and the reserve title. His top entry was soy bean hay. The soy bean championship was awarded to H. L. Stieglmeier of Normal, Ill., with Lincoln variety soy beans which weighed 60.1 pounds a bushel.

An Ohio State University team won the collegiate livestock judging most of the blue ribbons for prize cattle.

Judging of livestock will continue today.

It is said that the old New England expression, "to talk turkey," was coined in New Hampshire in the 1800's. A white man and an Indian went hunting together and met to divide the spoils, a crow and a turkey.

In China, if a man cannot pay his debts the door is taken from his house.

Describe Brutal Tactics Of Japs, At Tokyo Trials
 TOKYO, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Brutal and humiliating tactics—directed against Gen. Jonathan Wainwright and other top Allied officers who fell into Japanese hands—were described today before the International war crimes tribunal in Tokyo.

Prosecution attorneys declared that both the hero of Corregidor and a high-ranking Britisher, Gen. Sir Arthur E. Percival, one-time commander of Singapore, were beaten on the slightest pretext by Japanese enlisted men at the Kurematsu prison camp in Formosa.

The attorneys prosecuting Hideki Tojo and 26 other Japanese war-time leaders said the Allied generals were slapped, punched and kicked at the will of their captors.

It was said that physical punishment was meted out if dirt was found under the officer's fingernails or if their clothing was unbuttoned when Japanese guards made unannounced night inspections of prisoners' quarters.

The presenters said it was common to see senior Allied officers picking over garbage at Japanese prison camps in attempt to supplement the meager rations handed out by the Japanese.

MUSIC ACADEMY HAS UNION PROBLEM
 PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Directors of Philadelphia's historic Academy of Music today faced a decision of signing a "closed shop" contract with the American Federation of Musicians (AFM) or having union artists barred from performing in its stage.

Listing of the 89-year-old music hall as "unfair" would prohibit performances by the Philadelphia orchestra, the Metropolitan Opera Company, and many famous artists.

The ultimatum, voted by the executive board of AFM Local 77, gave the Academy until Aug. 15, 1947, to sign a contract providing for a "union shop," or be declared "unfair."

Sauerkraut originated in China more than 2,200 years ago.

Proposes Ten Point Program Of Legislation

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Sen. Wilson (R) Iowa, today proposed a 10-point program of fiscal and labor legislation to his Republican colleagues.

Wilson said he will offer to the Republican-controlled Senate a series of bills that would carry out the program, which he outlined as follows:

1. Eliminate deficit spending.
2. Draw the tax structure and budget to put government on a pay-as-you-go basis.
3. Curtail federal expenditures. Give up following the "gimme" program.
4. Reduce politically-overloaded payrolls.
5. Government departments must function within their original appropriations.
6. Decentralize and decentralize the present bureaucratic controlled and centralized government.
7. Enact legislation so that if labor and industry cannot agree through unfettered collective bargaining the rights of the people as a whole will be protected.
8. We must put forth every effort that we may attain high employment and productivity.
9. Government function in all matters should be only that of an efficient, impartial referee and supervisor.
10. Monopoly in labor as well as industry must be curbed.

LAY OFFS TO JUMP RELIEF ROLL TOTAL
 HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Sharp increases in state relief rolls were hinted today by the department of public assistance as a result of mass layoffs of industrial workers during the bituminous strike.

The department predicted many turloughed employees lacking sufficient resources to enable them to weather layoffs would apply for relief.

During the week ended November 23 a net increase of only eight persons boosted relief rolls to 272,735. Recipients, the department reported.

COVER GIRL TO WED MILLIONAIRE
 HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Nancy Guild, who broke into the movies two years ago via her picture on a magazine cover, is to become the bride Wednesday of Edward Lasker, son of the retired millionaire advertising man, Albert Lasker.

Their romance came as a surprise to all except a few of their closest friends. The two met only 10 days ago.

The marriage will be Miss Guild's first and Lasker's second. He formerly was married to Carol Gimbel of New York, who now is the wife of Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers.

Dueling as a court of last resort was abolished by the Icelandic parliament in 1906.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The latest innovation in this champagne town may be afternoon tea. Your reporter would prefer a short beer with a tall blonde, but Gregory Ratoff is entitled to his own ideas.

Starting a late afternoon round of Hollywood, your reporter came upon Gregory, collapsed upon a couch in his portable dressing room. He had just come up from Palm Springs to begin direction of "Moss Rose." This is 20th Century-Fox picture produced by Gene Markey, an erstwhile reporter who makes all other reporters look like hicks.

Ratoff, actor turned writer, turned director, looked up from his couch and said:

"I'm tired."

He must have been tired because a few dozen feet down the stage an even thirteen of Hollywood's most beautiful were in a chorus line rehearsing how best to toss 26 gorgeous gams towards an imaginary audience.

Gregory just turned his face to the wall and said:

"Yes, I'm tired. I wanted to leave Palm Springs at 5:30 a. m. and I left a call. Only they have some sort of daylight savings of their own down there and they woke me up at 4:30. I'm tired. What time is it?"

Ratoff brightened when told it was 4 p. m. and said:

"Need Afternoon Tea?"

"Do you know what we should have in this town? Afternoon tea. The English have a wonderful idea in that. What do you think?"

Your reporter said he thought it could be an idea, but turned and found that one of the 13 dancers was Peggy Cummings, the original screen "Amber." From a purely academic standpoint, it may be reported Peggy has very nice legs.

Only she kicked so high she ran a steam in a pair of net stockings. Two solicitous wardrobe ladies pulled off the stockings and left Peggy barefooted to talk to your reporter who wanted to know where our Irish beauty had been for the past two months.

It turned out she's had a holiday in New Mexico with some friends, riding horseback and doing all of the other things you do in New Mexico.

Likes New Role

Peggy said she likes her new starring role after playing with Ronald Colman in "The Late George Apley," but then one of the wardrobe ladies came back with a new pair of full length net stockings and chased your reporter out. It seems it isn't cricket in Hollywood to watch a screen beauty put on a pair of stockings.

Seven miles uptown, on the set of "Forever Amber," the second screen Amber, beautiful Linda Barnett arrived at her dressing room simultaneously with your reporter, who promptly got chased out again. But that was understandable. Linda had to change her gown.

The safest bet then seemed to be six foot, four, 200 pound John Russell, who plays "Black Jack," the highwayman who takes "Amber" from prison. Russell is an ex-veteran of the 2nd Marine Regiment which fought so valiantly on Guadalcanal and elsewhere in the Pacific. But Russell wasn't available. He was getting his hair curled. That was Hollywood's idea. Not Russell's.

At that point your reporter went out and sat in his car, lit a cigarette and meditated the next point of call. An extra came in and wanted to know whether we'd heard a story that a famous male star accustomed to red tooth brushes had changed to yellow ones to match the new motif of his bathroom? Your reporter said no, he hadn't.

Another acquaintance wanted to know if your reporter knew that two stars had been seen walking up Franklin avenue, arm in arm, at 2

a. m. the other morning. Your reporter said that no, he didn't, but suggested there ought to be something better to do at 2 a. m. than to walk up Franklin avenue, even arm in arm.

Maybe there should be refreshments in Hollywood at 4 p. m. but, let's skip the tea!

Liquid Ammonia Finds Other Uses

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Liquid ammonia, long employed as a freezing agent in ice and cold storage plants, has been drafted into many new fields of industry as a result of wartime experimenting.

Professor W. Conrad Fernelius of Purdue university, stated before the Philadelphia section of the American Chemical society, that the nation's capacity for producing ammonia, needed to make nitric acid for explosives, was enormously expanded during the war.

As a result, he said, the available supply is now so great that an intensive search has been undertaken for new peacetime applications to supplement the pre-war market, most of which was provided by the fertilizer industry.

He explained that its special qualities as a solvent, make it valuable in many phases of the growing synthetic chemical industry.

Careless smokers cause approximately one-fourth of all forest fires.

Letter Is Aid In Disposition Of Trust Funds

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—The disposition of a trust fund of some $200,000 has been made simpler by a letter written by the deceased nearly four years before her death.

The letter was accepted as part of the will of the Princess Cornelia Evelyn De Croy, of Belgium, a former Philadelphia resident.

The trust was created for the life of the princess under the will of her first husband, W. Carpenter Scott, of Bryn Mawr, who died in 1907. In 1936, she married Prince Henri De Croy, retired Belgian army officer.

The princess wrote the Girard Trust Co. in 1940, that "according to the will of my late husband... which gives me the right to leave his estate to any charity I name after my death, I desire to name Girard College of Philadelphia, which I believe he would thoroughly approve."

The letter was probated in the register of wills office after counsel agreed that the reference to Girard College could be regarded as having the same weight as though it was contained as a bequest in her will.

NOVEL IDEA FOR HOUSE HUNTERS

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Attention house-hunters! Maybe you'd like a railroad sleeping car to convert into a home. Or you might want to take the sleeping car, couple it with a kitchen car and a hospital car to really have a deluxe mansion.

The war assets administration reports that 1900 railroad sleeping cars, 400 of the kitchen variety, and 50 hospital ward cars (which could be converted surplus) have been declared surplus.

NIAGARA FALLS, N. Y.—(INS)—The DuPont company has announced plans for the construction of a new unit at its Niagara Falls electro-chemical plant, in order to step-up nylon production. The unit will turn out adiponitrile, one of the main chemical intermediates used in the manufacture of nylon.

British Film Rivalry Still Many Years Off

By FRED DOERFLINGER

(U.S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Dec. 2.—Exaggerated reports of Hollywood's "worst attack of nerves" since talkies pushed the silent cinema into oblivion in 1927—and all because of British pictures and the steady degeneration in the standard of the Hollywood product—are circulating in the British press.

"Months of doubt and growing self-criticism have now flared into a major Hollywood crisis. Leading figures all through the industry are warning, 'Hollywood is through unless we wake up,'" says one article.

At the same time the article lists a series of complaints and says "these complaints coincide with spiraling successes by British pictures in the U.S." It goes on to say that twenty British films have already been released in the United States, or will be released before the end of the year. It points out that the five British films released there in 1945 alone netted $2,000,000.

Thirty New Films
It further predicts that thirty British pictures are "planned" for release in the United States in 1947. This, the article says, is why Hollywood is afraid of its own decline and fall.

Hollywood is getting a lot of criticism from British film-goers. But nobody in Britain denies that Hollywood can produce top-notch films. The complaint lies in that the market is flooded with "too many bad ones for every good one."

The so-called "challenge from Britain," however, is sheer propaganda. Britain cannot even produce enough films to supply the home market let alone crowd out Hollywood in American cinemas. It will be many years before Britain can offer more than a token number of films to any market in comparison to actual consumption. Every intelligent British film authority agrees on this.

Because of the shortage of artists, studio space, technicians and equipment the British film industry is severely handicapped in production.

Few Big Stars
There are less than a dozen big names in the British film world—James Mason, Margaret Lockwood, Patricia Roc, Rex Harrison, Stewart Granger, Anna Neagle, Phyllis Calvert, Ann Todd, Deborah Kerr—and only another handful of up and coming starlets such as Jean Kent, Sid Field, Michael Redgrave, Anton Walbrook, Roger Livesey, Michael Wilding, Sally Gray and Denis Price.

Any major Hollywood studio could produce a longer list of big names by itself.

There are only half-a-dozen film studios in Britain—all cramped for space and none anywhere near as large as the average Hollywood studio.

The same difficulty as the British film industry has with artists it has with technicians. There is a shortage of producers, of directors, of screen writers, of cameramen, of painters and decorators, of set-hands of almost every branch of the industry.

Equipment Problem
Equipment is the really big problem. There are only four full-size technicolor cameras in all of Britain. Only two technicolor pictures at the most can be made at the same time.

Because of lack of equipment technicians and studio space one of the largest film companies in Britain is at the present time only shooting three pictures, one of them in technicolor.

One studio official revealed that equipment ordered before the war broke out in 1939 is now just beginning to trickle in. He cited for example a new microphone which had just arrived. It was a 1938 model yet it was the newest the studio had.

Weather, too, is a handicap. Location shooting is very costly because of continual bad weather.

The British film industry does not intend to compete with Hollywood on the quantitative basis for some time to come—not because it doesn't want to but simply because it cannot.

BUY VACUUM CLEANER THAT BEST MEETS NEEDS

Vacuum cleaners are gradually coming back on the market, but before buying one homemakers are urged to consider carefully the type they would find most useful.

There are two types of cleaners—the upright and the tank, explains Mrs. Hollobaugh. The upright will do floor-level cleaning, removing surface litter, dust, and embedded dirt through suction and a soft beating of the carpet. A tank cleaner is good for smooth-surface cleaning and where there is more above-the-floor cleaning.

The tank cleaner comes with many attachments to help do its work. At first the attachments may seem stiff and awkward to handle but their use around the house are almost unlimited.

Here are some of the points to look for in buying a cleaner: Self-adjustment or toe control adjustment for rugs of various thicknesses.

A convenient headlight to light up dark corners and under furniture.

Long-wearing rubber covered cord. A rubber furniture guard around cleaner to prevent marring furniture.

Wheels or gliders that won't mar carpets.

An efficient but not clumsy dust bag.

Denver Coal Yards Are Completely Out

DENVER, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Denver coal yards were out of coal today. No additional coal was in prospect until the miners' strike ends.

A paralysis of industrial and business life in Denver is anticipated by the end of the week, except in establishments and homes where there is a supply of coal on hand, or where gas or oil are used for fuel.

Gordon Callbeck, president, Denver Coal Merchants' Association, declared Denver's situation is nearing disaster. He declared that "despite rigid rationing we have no more coal to deliver. Hundreds of individual householders who now have no coal are out of luck."

Denver apartment houses, hotels and essential commercial users have been going on a day-to-day basis.

Men on skis and snowshoes are in effect "crop forecasters" for irrigation farmers in the west. They measure the depth of snow on western mountain ranges.

Deer Hunters Start Tramping Of Forest

Expect Over 300,000 Hunters To Take To Woodlands For Deer Next Two Weeks

Urge Hunters Wear Bright Red In Woods; Ask Hunters To File Reports

By JAMES H. SMITH

(International News Service Sports Writer)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Pennsylvania's 1946 deer season opened today at 7 a. m.

More than 300,000 hunters were expected to participate in the two-week long season. Shooting will be allowed from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m. with Sunday hunting prohibited.

Game commission officials said reports indicated an abundance of deer because considerable damage to orchards and crops had been attributed to the animals.

Bucks Legal Prey Bucks may be hunted on a statewide basis between December 2 and 7 while an open season on antlerless deer will begin December 9 in six northeastern counties where bucks may not be taken.

Special $1 permits will be required to hunt antlerless deer in Susquehanna, Schuylkill, Wyoming and Wayne counties, part of Carbon County west of the Lehigh river, and a portion of Luzerne County north and west of the Susquehanna river. Non-residents may not hunt antlerless deer.

Venison may be retained by sportsmen without a permit for 60 days after the season closes and for an additional four months by paying a $1 fee.

Wear Bright Red Commission officials urged sportsmen to wear some "bright red" clothing, handle guns carefully, and not to use foreign souvenir firearms unless they have proper ammunition.

A successful season was foreseen by officials if the weather was favorable and sufficient hunters comb woodlands instead of patrolling.

Hunters were requested by the commission not to remain seated in automobiles to wait until other sportsmen chased deer from the woods.

Must File Reports Small woodlots near farmlands were said by the commission to be good hunting spots because small herds of the animals were reported

"congregating" in those areas while searching for food.

Deer kill reports must be submitted to the commission by December 20. Sportsmen were asked to record the size, weight (dressed or undressed) and the place killed.

The number of points to each antler, the spread between antlers, and thickness of antlers at the base of the skull should be included in the report, officials added.

Joe Louis Okays Sheppard Battle

Champion Willing To Meet (Hatchet Man) In Baltimore Next Year, For Title

BALTIMORE, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Heavyweight Joe Louis said today that he is "ready and willing" to fight Curtis "Hatchet Man" Sheppard in Baltimore next year.

In a telephone conversation from Chicago, Louis declared: "I will be glad to meet Sheppard if the bout is arranged by Mike Jacobs (New York boxing promoter)."

Will Accept Bout Recently Jacobs conferred with members of the Maryland State Boxing Commission in New York and tentatively agreed on the Sheppard bout.

Jacobs has said that he planned two bouts for the champion. Louis said today that he is agreeable to the Baltimore fight, but doesn't want another contest in 1947.

He said he would go to New York on January 4 to confer with Jacobs on his plans.

HARRY TODD WINS ORLANDO TOURNAMENT

ORLANDO, Fla., Dec. 2.—(INS)—Harry Todd, lanky Texan, today pocketed the $2000 top prize in the $10,000 Orlando Jaycee Open Golf tournament, after streaking through the final round with a three-under-par 68 for a 72-hole score of 275.

The Dallas linksman fired a 35 on the front nine yesterday, and sliced three strokes off regulation figures on the back nine for a 33 to nose out Johnny Palmer, sturdy Badin, N. C., air force veteran.

Pittsburgh Steeler's Ace Ground Gainer In National League, Announces Retirement

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 2.—(INS)—Bullet Bill Dudley, one of the greatest ground gainers in the National Professional Football league, today announced he was leaving the game and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

The ace back disclosed his retirement following yesterday's game with the Philadelphia Eagles, during which he was carried from the field on a stretcher.

The undersized halfback, who has been battered all season by opposing linemen, said:

"I know my limitations. I'm just not big enough to take such a beating as this league calls for in a key player."

The former University of West Virginia All-American suffered a torn cartilage in his knee.
